"Unsustainable agriculture practice represents one of the greatest threats to the natural world of our generation". David Nussbaum, Chief Executive World Wildlife Fund UK

FOR IMMEDIATE MEDIA RELEASE

Caelestis in aid of WWF

Caelestis – a French non-profit-making charitable and educational voluntary association is the only association that raises funds in aid of WWF with the support of celebrities at an international level, and draws public attention to the environmental impact of production and consumption (of wine in particular)

Caelestis means in Latin Celestial (Céleste – in French, Celeste – in Spanish, Italian) and symbolises the importance of the heavens which helps us to formulate our point of view (from the Earth) on everything which surrounds us.

The first non-commercial brand 'Caelestis' created in 2011 among the prestigious Bordeaux Grand Crus Classés and dedicated entirely to WWF was auctioned several times worldwide.

100% proceeds from Caelestis charity auctions benefited directly WWF in various countries.

The Association Caelestis for WWF continues with the novel ecology-oriented 3ec-TV channel <http://3ec-tv.com/> which contributes '1% for the Planet'.

Art & Wine Auction in aid of WWF

Caelestis is close to the Stars..., close to the Earth... Each time a different celebrity autographed the original specially designed wine label. Caelestis is also signed by its renowned producer and oenologist Alain Moueix.

Caelestis biodynamic wine originates from the prestigious Château Fonroque Saint-Emilion Grand Cru Classé. This fine wine remains a true rarity because among a total of 176 Bordeaux Grands Crus Classés (Classified Growths), there are only 3 biodynamic certified Grands Crus Classés wines (barely 2.27% are organic).

Caelestis is not sold in shops and only a few bottles to share between three continents are auctioned, making Caelestis one of the rarest wines in the world.
